

This flow chart is my ideal process to execute quality data validation and provide clean data to stakeholders. This flow chart shows data flow from National Response Center specialist received emergency call (related to railroad and pollution), to data available to public stakeholders and internal users.

